Reflections: Poetry Through the Windows of My Soul

By Shirley Gault

David James Publishing. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 210 pages. Dimensions: 9.0in. x 6.0in. x 0.5in. Shirley Gault is no stranger to listeners of local radio in her native Northern Ireland, having a regular and popular poetry reading slot. She began by writing Valentines Day rhymes for friends before having her first poetry published. Her style has been described as romantic, and she says that being a people person and people watcher enables her to cover love in all its forms love of people, love of places and love of life. This collection is divided into four distinct categories: Home and Away; Straight from the Heart; Passions Shared; and Pot Pourri. My inspiration can come from a single word or a beautiful sunset; natures inspiration is endless, says Shirley. And comments Broadcaster and Entertainer Candy Devine: Her poems will make you laugh, they will make you cry, they will make you think. In 2000 I interviewed Shirley on Downtown Radio and, after being introduced to her writing, invited her to read some of her work on the programme. We received an instant response and her readings have become a popular and regular feature on Friday nights. I am delighted that Shirleys...
